Since: 1937
Specialty: Dyeing technique

Shibori (literally "squeeze") is a unique dyeing technique where hundreds of knots are made in the fabric before the dyeing. The result is a distinctively elegant texture and a pattern.

KYOTO SHIBORI BIKYO provides beautiful textiles dyed in the traditional shibori technique, which are used for both traditional kimono accessories and modern fashion. In 2013, they launched a modern fashion brand "Kizomé" to explore new possibilities. While it is based on traditional hand work by highly skilled craftsman, "Kizomé" showcases innovative shibori techniques using 3D printing.
