KAMER

From literature, to daily items and interior, washi (Japanese paper) played many important roles in the Japanese culture. SHOGADO aims to enrich our lives by introducing the warmth and sensitivity washi holds. They have established themselves as a wholesaler of shikishi and tanzaku, strips of luxury paper particularly used for writing poems and calligraphy. Since 2003, they have been providing daily products using washi directly to the customers. The new brand "ginger" launched in 2017 offers products of comprehensive variety from stationary to interior products.
