KYOTO — AMSTERDAM
KAMER

Maker: Taneda

Since: 1837

Specialty: Dyeing

TANEDA has dedicated itself to making kimono accessories from elegant and delicate fabrics made with kanoko-shibori techniques, which literally translates into squeezing into the pattern of a baby deer. This traditional technique of making hundreds of knots in a textile before dyeing creates a unique pattern that resembles the spots on the back of a fawn. The multilayered hand work by highly skilled craftsmen gives TANEDA's products warm and rich texture and embroidery. Their sophisticated finish under strict quality control is highly praised as their international collaboration was featured in Paris Collection 2011.

MAKER KAMER
KYOTO — AMSTERDAM

MAKER KAMER (maker's room) is a collaborative platform, founded and based in Amsterdam that serves to bridge Kyoto's craftspeople and European creativity.

At Vienna Design Week, we are proud to showcase our new products available through the European network and produced by highly skilled artisans in Kyoto. We hope you'll enjoy seeing our possibilities for the new group of European traditional crafts.

TO EUROPE
Together with other long-established companies in Kyoto, we introduce Japanese handmade crafts to Europe and create fruitful relationships for both European and Japanese creative minds.

Our aim is to provide an art to craftsmanship and measure throughout Kyoto to create the right products and to have good advice and craft workshops (open as laboratories).

FROM KYOTO
The ancient capital of Japan for over a thousand years considered as one of the world's culture and artistic centers of the country. Respected by the artisans who reside in Kyoto and invited to participate in the traditions.
